Built on fair value

We are one of India's largest hair manufacturers, producing full-cuticle virgin and Remy hair at our own facility and shipping to salons across the world.

Finding a dependable supplier should not cost a stylist years of trial and error. We built Remypatra to remove that risk; consistent quality, honest communication, and pricing structured for the people who buy in volume.

The wholesale prices in this guide are heavily discounted for high-volume partners. What you see is what you pay — no shifting tiers, no surprises.

SIGNATURE EUROPEAN HAIR LOOK & FEEL · FROM INDIA DIRECT

The Slavic Hair Look

Our Slavic-look collection recreates the fine, luminous quality of Eastern European hair. It begins with carefully selected baby Indian and Asian hair, then refined through a proprietary finishing process.

The result is soft, natural-toned hair that lifts to the palest blondes without the brittleness of conventional bleaching — a true Slavic feel, engineered.

01

Baby Indian & Asian hair, selected for fineness

02

High-end Brazilian conditioning chemistry

03

Italian slow-depigmentation science

04

Cold-bleaching to protect the cuticle

SIGNATURE · DEVELOPED BLONDES

The Slavic Look

The luminous, cool-toned look of genuine Slavic hair
— developed in-house, at a fraction of the cost.

Genuine virgin Slavic hair is in severe shortage and can cost up to $5,000/kg. We develop ours from fine baby hair, refined with high-end Brazilian and Korean cosmetics.

Curly Hair Expertise

Curly and textured hair is its own discipline. We pattern and supply curls across the full spectrum — from loose beach waves to deep spirals and tight coils — each set to hold its spring wash after wash.

Every curl pattern is colour-matched and cut to blend seamlessly, so clients who wear their natural texture get the same fit, movement and longevity as any straight set.

KNOW YOUR MARKET

The Turkish Game

Impressed by Turkish hair? No problem — we make the same shades at better quality, and we'll tell you exactly how their game works.

01

The middleman markup

Turkey grows very little hair of its own. Much of what it sells is bought from cheaper Asian nations, quietly re-labelled, and resold — the price you pay covers a middleman, not a manufacturer.

02

The quality they hide

Behind the polish sits evasive, low-grade bleaching and dyeing on medium-quality, often non-Remy hair. The origin is kept vague on purpose, because the answer wouldn't justify the price.

03

The whisper campaign

In the buying nations they talk down every other supplier to protect their margin. It's a sales tactic, not a verdict on quality — and once you know the sourcing, it loses its power.

THE "IRANIAN" & "RUSSIAN" MYTH

They chase — and sell — fake Iranian and fake Russian hair, when it is all Asian medium-grade or non-Remy stock. A genuine name on a fictional origin. We don't play that game: what we call baby hair, virgin Remy, or a developed Slavic look is exactly, honestly, what it is.

WHAT IT'S REALLY WORTH

They ask up to $2,000/kg for that hair. Knowing what it actually is, we wouldn't pay $600/kg for it.

Same shades. Honest origin.
Genuinely better quality.

Volume, speed and low prices — with one detail left out: where the good hair actually comes from.

The China– Vietnam Game

O1

Machine Remy, not raw

Machine Remy is mixed head-hair pooled from 3,000–5,000 people. Not every strand can lift to #613 — so after bleaching and dyeing, 20–30% comes out weak and over-processed.

O2

The real hair leaves raw

The genuine direct-cut, single-donor hair they receive is sold onward as raw material — to premium brands elsewhere. The buyer at the low end rarely sees it; they get the processed volume grade.

O3

Weak strands, 4–5 months

That weak 20–30% sheds and breaks off within 4–5 months, once the coating washes out and the stripped cuticle gives way — tangling, matting and thinning that lands squarely on your reputation.

GO TO THE SOURCE

We are that source. The direct-cut Indian hair they resell as raw material is the hair we manufacture from — in-house, start to finish.

Buy the origin, not the middle.

FULL-CUTICLE, HONESTLY

Our hair is cut direct from Asian villages across India and neighbouring nations — single-donor, one head at a time, cuticle intact and aligned. No pooling, no acid stripping, no silicone mask. It looks the same on wash forty as on day one.

The Russian “Luxury” Game

O1

Elite label, borrowed hair

They market themselves as elite and luxury, but buy from Vietnamese and other suppliers — the same machine Remy — or bleach hair sourced from India, Burma, Vietnam and China with substandard technology.

O2

“Raw material” at $3,000+

That hair is re-badged as premium raw material and sold at $3,000/kg and up — a price built on a name, not on quality, that troubles buyers across the whole market.

O3

Not built for large orders

Supply is thin and inconsistent, so volume orders are unreliable. The dealing tends to be manipulative and pushy — a difficult fit for buyers who value respect, consistency and professional manners.

A CALMER WAY TO BUY

We are the source, not a re-seller wearing a luxury label. Honest origin, honest grade, steady supply for large and repeat orders — and a partnership run with the courtesy and reliability Western buyers expect.

OUR DEVELOPED SLAVIC LOOK

The Slavic look at a fair, transparent price — developed openly from fine baby hair, never sold as a fictional origin.

Class is honesty, not a markup.

The Indian Game

01

Hoarded temple hair

A handful of agent families hoard temple hair and sell it on to other nations. Most Indian manufacturers can't get much of it — leaving them short of the very material their reputation rests on.

02

Mixed and blended down

So they stretch it — blending temple hair with non-Remy stock in the hackles. Add poor bleaching science, weak hygiene and thin customer service, and the quality is inconsistent at best.

03

We source direct

Unlike them, we buy direct from auctions — and from agent families when needed — so our temple and direct-cut hair stays pure, single-origin and unblended, start to finish.

WHY REMYPATRA EXISTS

We came into this business seeing exactly these mediocrities — and one question no one would answer: if the Italians can bleach and dye Indian hair to this standard, why can't it be done in India, direct at the source?

So we built it. Many tried to boycott us, played games, pushed back. We stayed tough and outlasted every one of them.

INDIAN HAIR, DONE RIGHT

Source-direct, unblended, finished with world-class bleaching and dyeing — in India, honestly.

We fixed what the market wouldn't.

We know exactly what your keratin clients are afraid of.

01 · WE UNDERSTAND

Your buyers won't compromise. They ask for tips down to 2mm and 4mm — anything thicker shows, snags, or stresses the natural hair at the root. And they are particular about who sits in that chair.

02 · WE ENGINEER

Micro-precision tips, moulded to 2—4mm with Italian keratin glue. Full-cuticle hair, top-tier bleaching and dyeing, finished soft and smooth so the bond disappears into the client's own hair.

03 · YOU DELIVER

A bond your client forgets is there — and a result your competitors can't source. This is the keratin work stylists ask their supplier for by name.
